Where cats like to sleep

- Cats like choice and like to have more than one bed so that they can rotate where they sleep
- They often like to have a vantage point up high where they can see what's going on from a safe distance

- Keeping an eye on birds, people and insects outside can be great fun
- Cats also like enclosed spaces, in the wild these would have provided hiding places from predators and allowed them to ambush their prey

- Warmth is key, whether it comes from a radiator, sunshine or you!
- Almost anything soft and comfortable will be high on their list
